SATURDAY MORNING MAY 3 1862

Gen John F Miller

John F. Miller, the nominee for Governor we know to be a very literary man. We presume he was nominated on the ground of capability alone. In order that our readers may be able to form a correct opinion of the extraordinary capacity of this gentleman we subjoin a letter written by this Gubernatorial aspirant to the Sentinel office.

AMITY May 28th 1861

Editor Sentinel

Sir I have been a subscriber to the oregon Sentinel from its first issue up to the present time and have been pleased with its politics up to the present time. But from the present tone of the paper I think it would suit some free Negro in Massachusetts better than My Self So if you are willing to risk him for the pay you can do as you please about Sending it to him but do not Send it to me again Yours in haste

JOHN F MILLER

No lack of statesmanship there. O, no. Then its closing cut! how keen, how satirical and how annihilating!! From the reception of the news of the bombardment of Fort Sumter up to a time just previous to the reception of Gen Miller's polite note, the Standard was under the editorial management of James O'Meara, and advocated, as the paper itself will show, a peaceful dissolution of the Union, and the recognition of the Southern Confederacy. Yet this gentlemen will howl all over the State about his attachment to the Union, and his faith and confidence in the Constitution of the Fathers. When you come out here, General, don't fail to give us a dissertation on abolitionism, and a homily on free negroes. Mr Miller's nomination is no more than a full delegation of power, if elected, to employ an attorney to perform the duties of the Gubernatorial office. Don't employ him yet, General, for it is possible you may have to wait awhile.—Jacksonville Sentinel.

The above letter of our would-be Governor reminds us of a scrap of history. At the breaking out of the Rogue river war, Miller was the Quartermaster General. His first batch of papers came on, and everything about them was perfectly unintelligible. This would never answer, and Curry took upon himself to get Miller to resign; which said Miller was very unwilling to do, as he well knew there was something to be made by having an understanding with the contractors. Curry told him he was the only man who could be elected to the Senate from Jackson county, and he wanted him in the Legislature, where he could render him great service, and finally concluded by informing him that it was impossible for him to hold his position, as he was not enough on the "pen write." Miller resigned, and Old John Ross beat him three hundred majority in a democratic county, where they had a good working majority of four hundred. To cure the wounds thus inflicted, Miller was appointed Indian Agent, when he managed to make a fortune of from forty to sixty thousand dollars in four years, on a salary of fifteen hundred dollars a year. Johnny's talent does not lie in the "pen write" so much as in knowing how to do it. The Governor might think it personal if we should ask the old Jeffersonian question, Is he honest? is he capable?—and we won't do it.

THE MANNER OF MCCULLOCH'S DEATH.—The following, from a correspondent of an Ky. paper, describes the manner in which this famous rebel came to his death in the battle of Pea Ridge, Arkansas. He seems to have died in an amiable and pious frame of mind, and his old secession friends in Sacramento will undoubtedly be much edified by the example thereof.

Concerning the death of McCulloch and McIntosh there seems to be but one opinion. Both of them were mortally wounded during heavy fighting by Gen Jeff C Davis against the center column of the enemy. It will be remembered the rebels gave way, and the two Southern chieftains made most determined efforts to rally them in vain. McCulloch was struck with a minie rifle ball in the left breast—as I am assured by one who says he saw him fall, and after he was taken from the ground—while waving his sword and encouraging his men to stand firm. He died of his wounds about 11 o clock the same night, though he insisted that he would recover, repeatedly saying with great oaths that he was not born to be killed by a Yankee. A few minutes before he expired his physician assured him he had but a very brief time to live. At this Ben looked up incredulously and saying, 'Oh Hell!' turned away his head and never spoke after. I presume, if Ben be really dead [He is dead, as the order of his funeral has been published], the Southern papers will put some very fine sentiment into his mouth in his closing moments; but the last words I have mentioned are declared to be correct by a prisoner. They are not very elegant nor very dramatic, but quite expressive, and in McCulloch's case decidedly appropriate.

ARRIVAL.—Wm. L. McEwan, candidate for Mayor during the fifteen on the democratic ticket, has declined acting

Judge Watt and the Democratic Call

Our readers will remember that some time ago we stated on good authority that Judge Watt had expressed regret at signing the call for a democratic convention, as the sentiments contained in it were not his. The Judge called in soon after, and denied this, declaring himself satisfied with the call. The following verified communication from Col Peck, our informant will show that if he was not sorry for signing it, it squinted that way very much. It can now probably be understood why he finally endorsed it.

EDITOR OREGONIAN

In these times of our country's trial, when true patriotism should prompt every man to a performance of duty, and believing as I do that it is the duty of every man in the State of Oregon to assist in every truthful manner to unmask the traiterous designs of those in Oregon now striving to delude and deceive our people by covering themselves with the name "democracy," and by pretending to be marching to its music and under its banner I make the following statements concerning a conversation which held with "Aaron E. Wait," the present candidate for Congress on that ticket, shortly after his name appeared in the call for a Convention. Having seen the name of Judge Watt attached to the call, I said to him, "Judge, did you sign that call?" he replied, I did, but I did not know at the time I signed it that the call was in the language that it is. I am glad that you have spoken to me about it." Said I, "Shall I get Mr Pearne to rectify it?" Said he "Yes I wish you would." Said I, "Give it to me in writing." The Judge replied, "No, you tell him to correct it." I, in accordance with his request, saw Mr Pearne and made the request, and he (Mr. Pearne) declined to make any reference to the matter. L L PECK

OUR FOREIGN RELATIONS.—To show the real feeling of the French Government toward this country, and to contradict the false insinuations of the London Times, Post and Herald, it is only necessary to refer to a piece of present history. In the course of a speech pronounced in the French Senate, on the 25th ult., the official representative of the Government, M. Billaut, Minister without portfolio, made the following explicit declaration respecting the imperial policy toward our country:

"As to America," said the Minister, "France will never forget the bonds of amity which unite her to the United States. History points to her that war with them is impossible, but this does not prevent her from being pained to see children of the same nation destroying each other, deluging with fraternal blood the fields they ought to cultivate in harmony. Such a state of things has dictated to the Emperor's Government a policy of strict neutrality. It has not permitted circumstances to compromise the principles it defended and caused to prevail in the Congress of 1856, but it bears toward the United States a profound friendship, and cannot comprehend how any one could wish to urge upon it a course tending to force a passage into the ports of the South, for the purpose of obtaining cotton. On the part of France, such conduct would be madness; and England herself, whose interests are far more concerned in the prompt settlement of the question, can only join the other Powers in desiring that the war which desolates America may be brought to a speedy close, but England is, at this very moment, on the best terms with the United States, and will not venture upon a policy which is not that of France, and to which the Emperor will never lend his aid."

This emphatic declaration was received by the entire Senate with the liveliest marks of approbation. In the face of facts like these coupled with the formal assurances given by the Queen's Ministers, in both Houses of Parliament, there appears to be no doubt as to the present friendly feeling of both the French and English Governments.—Sac Union.

INDIAN OUTRAGES ON THE PLAINS.—A dispatch from Salt Lake, dated April 22d, has the following intelligence:

The Indians east of here have been committing depredations upon the Mail Company for the last two months, until at the present time they have entire control of the route. They have stolen nearly all the stock from the route, killed several of the employes and have burned one station. They threaten the entire destruction of the Overland Mail and Telegraph. The Mail Company have discontinued the running of the Mail for the present and will not attempt to run the route until troops are placed along it to protect them. There is a report that eight men were killed by the Indians yesterday, founded upon the fact that they were seen in possession of animals, clothing and arms belonging to the party. There is also a report that a fight is now going on east of Fort Bridger, between the employes and the Indians. A dozen men from Fort Bridger have gone to their assistance, and it is momentarily expected that the telegraph line will be destroyed.

GREAT ATTRACTION.—A Book of Books?—A treatise will shortly be issued entitled "How to make forty thousand dollars in a short time with a salary of only fifteen hundred dollars a year, as Indian Agent." The learned author, would-be Governor Miller, has had experience, and can tell. He knows you bet.

By Last Night's Mail.

Later by Overland Telegraph.

Dates to April 23d.

A Heavy Blow to the Rebels—Rebels Defeated at Elizabeth City—Operations about Pittsburg—Gen Halleck Reinforced—Gen Mitchell cuts off Beauregard's Reinforcements—Case of Senator Stark—Movements at Fort Wright—Rebel Fleet Captured—Another Skirmish on the Rappahannock—Relief to Maryland for Families of Boston Soldiers—Gen Banks advancing—Congress Session—Oregon News.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—From a gentleman who left Memphis a few days after the battle of Shiloh, we learn that the rebels, putting both days' battles together, still claim the victory. Their claim rests on the supposition that more Federals were killed, wounded and taken prisoners than rebels. Our informant was in Huntsville when Mitchell reached there, with his division to secure the place. It was a complete surprise to the rebels. The occupation of the railroad between Decatur and Stevenson was regarded as the hardest blow they had yet received. The rebels were preparing to make a desperate stand at Corinth.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Richmond papers of yesterday contain telegraphic reports of the landing of our forces at Elizabeth City, North Carolina, and of the engagement at that point. They admit that their forces retreated to Dismal Swamp canal with a loss of thirty-eight killed and wounded. They say the Federal loss was much heavier.

The Eastern freshets are subsiding.

CAIRO, April 21.—Advices from the army at Pittsburg to Sunday evening state the weather has been exceedingly unfavorable for movements of the army. For three days previously it rained incessantly. It is now utterly impossible for the army to move on account of the great depth of mud. Preparations, however, are going on steadily, so that when the roads improve, we will be in readiness for battle. It is thought by those who ought to know best that the majority of the Southern people are ready to throw down their arms, and return to the Union if defeated at Corinth. The leaders, however, are desperate as ever. Two rebels who fired on the steamer Memphalia on the recent trip up the Tennessee river, have been arrested. They will be shot. A steamer arrived last night from the fleet. There was only occasional firing on Saturday, none on Sunday. It is understood that General Pope's army, with the exception of a small force, has been sent up the Tennessee river to reinforce Gen Halleck. It is thought that when the battle occurs, Beauregard will be able to bring 150,000 men into action.

CINCINNATI, April 23d.—The Gazette's Huntsville correspondence says Beauregard's dispatch to General Cooper, calling for reinforcements was found in the telegraph office having passed over the wires before the arrival of General Mitchell. About one third of the reinforcements called for had already passed to Corinth. The remainder are expected at Chattanooga and other points, on account of obstructions placed in the way by General Mitchell.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Special Committee in the case of Stark of Oregon predicate their report on evidence presented before the Judiciary Committee of the Senate. Pending the previous consideration of his case no new testimony was taken by the Committee.

CAIRO, April 22d.—Dispatches from the fleet, dated yesterday, report no firing on either side for three days. The enemy are reported to have fourteen gunboats and the steam ram Manassas off the Fleet. The Manassas and seven of the gunboats arrived on Sunday. The De Soto left the fleet yesterday, with a hundred bales of cotton, the first shipment since the commencement of hostilities.

WASHINGTON, April 23d.—The King Philip arrived at the Navy Yard this morning. She reports that having cautiously passed through the five sunken obstructions below Fredericksburg, our flotilla had captured seven rebel schooners, one of them with a valuable cargo of dry goods, medicines and saltpeter, also two small steamers. It is stated that rebel pickets are occasionally seen on South river. Our troops still command Fredericksburg—the residents of which were entirely free in their usual business pursuits.

Several vessels of the river flotilla have been up the Rappahannock—some of them as far as Fredericksburg. About nine miles above Rappahannock sharpshooters have been sunk to obstruct the channel. Commander Wyman in the Yankee, with two consorts, pushed through at no point. The boats were fired on with musketry and replied in kind—the banks being too high to use cannon. No one was injured. Twelve or thirteen vessels were found in the creek on route and were seized and brought down. The river is now considered open for navigation. Timber for rebuilding the bridges burned by the rebels in their retreat before McDowell's advance will soon reach Falmouth. Nothing was heard of the rebel forces but it was supposed that they were not far back of Fredericksburg.

BALTIMORE, April 23.—The Legislature of Maryland appropriated seven thousand dollars for the families of those killed or disabled of the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment in the march through Baltimore a year since.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The War Department has received a dispatch from General Banks. His advance is near Harrisonburg. A force was sent forward yesterday. The people of the vicinity were greatly alarmed at first on account of the report circulated by the rebels as to the treatment they would receive from the Federals. But in the course of a few hours they became reconciled to our presence. In several recent skirmishes with the enemy but slightly three men Jackson has abandoned the Valley of Virginia permanently and is now en route to Gordonsville by way of the mountains. Numerous deserters come in daily.

WASHINGTON, April 23d.—In the House, most of its work was made to lay the fifteen or sixteen Confiscation bills on the table but the motion to do so was lost—59 to 60.

SALT LAKE, April 24.—The Indians east are more quiet. Fresh mails are being sent out on the line from Fort Laramie and it is thought the running of the mail will be resumed in a few days. The telegraph line case is in no danger only from some whites below Julesburg who have occasionally cut poles for fire wood.

NEW YORK, April 23d.—The Persia has arrived with Liverpool dates to the 12th.

Rumor says that the relations between England, France and Spain, in respect to Mexico are unsatisfactory. It is reported that France wished to march against the city of Mexico. The Augsburg Gazette asserts, on reliable authority, that England succeeded in placing Spain in a fuller role on the Mexican question, by promising not to object should Spain take possession of Hayti.

The subject of fortifications and recent important experiments with 300 pounder Armstrong guns has been further debated in Parliament. It was predicted that Armstrong would soon produce 600 pounders to do the same damage at 2,200 yards which his 300 pounders have done at 2000 yards.

Palmerston believes that sooner or later United Italy will be completed by the possession of Rome.

THE LAST REBEL CABINET.—The new Cabinet of President Davis has been formed. For Secretary of State, J. P. Benjamin, of Louisiana; Secretary of War, George W. Randolph of Virginia; Secretary of the Navy, S. R. Mallory of Florida; Secretary of the Treasury, C. G. Memminger of South Carolina; Attorney General, Thomas Watts; Postmaster General, Wm. Reagan of Texas.

Consumption Curable.—DR. HALL'S BALSAM is better entitled to the confidence of CONSUMPTIVES than any remedy known. Its unparalleled success in the cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchitis, and the unqualified approval of those who have tried it, various medicines without benefit, is sufficient warrant for its use.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

THE OREGONIAN has a larger CIRCULATION LIST than any other paper published in this City.

THE OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Bookstore, opposite the Post Office

FREIGHT.—In consequence of the difficulty of transporting the large quantity of freight now at the Cascades over the rapids, we learn that the steamers here will not carry any more freight for the upper country until next week, at which time the new boat is expected to be completed. That boat and the immense quantity of freight now accumulated at the Cascades will soon be forwarded.

MUSICIAN.—Scarcely a day passes that we do not see a number of horsemen mounted on fine specimens of Cayuse horses, charging up and down the streets at a John Gilpin rate, to the consternation and danger of women and children. One frolicksome individual was thrown in the middle of the street by the playful antics of his "milk white steed." After rising to his feet, he remarked that the horse behaved more angular than usual before rid." He was a Californian.

Mr. Charley Burchard, at the Gem Saloon, has received another supply of fresh Shoalwater Bay oysters

RIVER.—The back water of the Columbia has raised the Willamette four or five inches in the twenty four hours ending eight o'clock last night.

We are in receipt of late Victoria and Puget Sound papers by last night's mail. They contain no news of importance

WHARF.—The new wharf at the foot of Ash is nearly completed.

THE BROOK.—The schooner Brant sails for Coos Bay to-day.

The steamer came in last night at half-past seven, and is to leave hereafter at six in the morning.

MOUNT VESUVIUS.—From Zurich, I made a daily direction to Schaffhausen, to visit the Falls of the Rhine, which is well worth a visit; but the fall of the river of only a few yards though grand and beautiful, and much visited by continental tourists, does not, I believe, astonish an American who has seen the vast and indescribable Falls of Niagara. This reminds me of an anecdote of a controversy between an American and a Frenchman, relative to the beauties and resources of the two countries — the Frenchman thought he had the advantage of the American by describing the volcano, and the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius, but the American replied, "Yes, all very true; but we have Falls, which can drown Vesuvius in five minutes."—Fassur's Twenty Years of the World

MARRIED.—The Lewiston (Me.) Journal says a lady in that town recently lost an infant child and came out in deep mourning. Being asked why she put on mourning for the loss of her infant child, she replied, "No, I am not mourning for the child alone, but for my self also, for I am ailing and I don't think he'll live long. I thought I would be prepared!"

A boy being asked by the teacher who had flogged him, replied—"If you please, sir, I should like to have it upon the shoulders, the heavy strokes upwards, and the others light."

Sleep is the mother of good digestion.

A CARD.

To my friends in the Willamette Valley, and elsewhere with disease of the bronchial tubes and throat: Dr J. Flattery will be in Portland about April 1st, and will be pleased to relieve and cure those afflicted. Dr Flattery's system of inhalation is one of wonders. My condition was well known in Portland and the adjacent country, when I left there in the fall of '60. My friends supposed that I could not survive the winter. Dr Flattery's system of inhalation has restored me to a strength and health that I have so far recovered as to be capable to pursue my business with energy and success. I could also tell of persons here and in the country who were considered incurable, who by the use of this system, have been restored to their friends and to perfect health. I say to the afflicted, try this system. H. S. FINE

Olive.

No recommendation was not asked for by Dr Flattery, nor is it expected. The above is prompted by a sincere regard for the afflicted H. S. F.

How to go to the Mines.—Miners who now purpose going to Salmon River Rhodes Creek and the other mining regions, should not start on any expedition to travel through a cold and starved out country, for it is known by all who have come from above the Cascades that the country is now bare of all kinds of provisions, owing to the difficulty in getting up the river. Therefore we would exhort all who wish to go the right comfortably and return with their pockets full of Rocks to call at HARKER BROTHERS' store above the Upper Wharf and supply themselves with Flour Bacon Beans Groceries Blankets Clothing Rubber and Nailed Boots and all other articles necessary for mining purposes before they embark for the Land of Promise.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, we advise all at once to inhale Brown's Bronchial Troches or Lozenges to let the Cold Cough or Irritation of the Throat have a slight daily this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find it effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science and they occupy, with others an equally lofty position in the profession. He is an illustrious example a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr Czapkay has justly equalled him in this country as a proof of which the Philadelphia College of Medicine conferred him with a Diploma, and the honorary advantage of degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, with full qualification as a graduate of the University of Pesth and lately Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army for three extended Labors, Dr L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases in which he has become a great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most extensive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street corner of Leidesdorff nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company San Francisco. We seek particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing the time its correspondence please send one $10 in their letters and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY M. D., San Francisco Cal. Information of James B. Hughes Wanted.

JAMES B HUGHES is supposed to have been a resident of Portland, Oregon. For about ten years past he has been in Michigan but never heard from him. A short time since it was understood by his friends in Michigan that he had died some time about the date of March 1861 and that he left a large amount of property. In person he was a rather thick set man of dark complexion, has a scar on his forehead caused by an accident, was a lumber dealer and commission merchant, owning extensive lumber and flouring mills. His present age, if he were living, would be about forty-one years. He went to California in 1849. His former residence was Chicago Ill. It is supposed that he left a wife and two children but that they are since deceased.

Should any citizen of Oregon or Washington Territory or California possess any knowledge of this James B. Hughes, and will communicate the same to the editor of this paper or the undersigned a great favor will be conferred, which will be duly acknowledged

Recipe for Potato Pudding.

(Concluded.)

"No rules!" screamed the indignant cook, starting up, while her face grew ten times redder, and her little black eyes snapped with rage. "No rules!" and she planted herself in front of Mrs Darling erecting her fleshy figure to its full height of majestic dumpiness and extending the fore finger of her right hand till it reached an alarming propinquity to that lady's nose. "No rules! you tell me I've no rules!" Me! that's cooked in the first families for fifteen years, and always given satisfaction to be told by such as you that I hasn't no rules!"

Thus far had Mudlaw proceeded and I know not to what length she would have allowed herself to go, had not the sudden entrance of Col Philpot interrupted her. He being a person of whom she stood somewhat in awe particularly 'jest at this time," she broke off in the midst of her tirade and casting a look of ineffable disgust at Mrs Darling, retreated to her own dominions to vent her fury on poor Peggy, who had done everything wrong during her absence.

While Colonel Philpot was expressing his extreme satisfaction at seeing Mrs Darling, Mrs Philpot emerged from the library, where she had been shaking in her shoes during the interview between that lady and Mudlaw.

"Matilda, my dear" said the colonel 'this is quite an unexpected pleasure for really Mrs Darling, we began to fear that you did not intend to cultivate us"

"I did not come for that purpose" replied Mrs Darling, who, now she saw through Col Philpot despised him thoroughly, and was not afraid to let him know it, notwithstanding he belonged to the aristocracy of our town. 'I came on an errand, and your cook has got quite angry with me for some reason, I scarcely know what"

"Poor Mudlaw" said Mrs. Philpot, anxious to screen her main stay from the Colonel's displeasure, yet feeling the necessity of some apology to Mrs Darling "Poor Mudlaw! I don't think she intended to be rude"

"What! has the cook been rude to Mrs Darling?" exclaimed Col. P

"Not rude, exactly, dear but you know she is so sensitive about everything connected with her department, and she fancied that Mrs. Darling called her skill in question, and became somewhat exated."

"Quite excited, I should call it," said Mrs. D. with a smile

"And she has dared to treat Mrs Darling rudely!" said Col. Philpot, apparently much agitated "Shameful! disgraceful! the wretch shall suffer for it! To think that a lady like Mrs. Darling should be insulted by a cook! in my house, too!"

"And just before election, too, it is a pity" said Mrs. Darling, quietly, as she rose and wishing them good morning, departed leaving Col Philpot lost in astonishment. Her last remark rendered necessary some explanation from Mrs P. She was compelled to repeat some part of the conversation that had taken place in the kitchen which, though softened down as much as possible was sufficient to rouse the Colonel's indignation to the highest pitch, for he saw at at once that Darling was lost. He gave his silly wife a hearty blowing up, but upon Mudlaw his wrath fell heaviest No entreaties of her mistress could save her, she was commanded to quit the premises to troop forthwith "for being rude to visitors" But Mudlaw knew well enough the real reason of her dismissal, and when she went forth in rage and sorrow, she found some consolation in spreading it far and wide, thereby making Col Philpot very ridiculous in the eyes of the community

"Well, I'm surprised, Hester," said John Darling, after his wife had told him the result of her visit. "I am sorry too, for I thought well of Col Philpot. I thought we couldn't send a better man to Congress. But a man that will stoop to such things is not fit to go there And if Col. Philpot gets there, it must be without any help from John Darling."

Col. Philpot did not go to Congress, and what made his defeat the more aggravating was the fact that his opponent was elected by the small majority of three votes. And so Col Philpot lost his election, and Mrs Philpot lost her cook, and Mr. Darling lost his esteem for Col Philpot, and all through the over-politeness of the latter

And was there nothing gained? Oh, yes; Mrs Darling gained something Not much information in regard to the potato pudding, but she gained some knowledge of the internal arrangement of Mrs. Philpot's household, which proved of great service to her, for she confesses to John that she was never so contented with her own home and her own husband as she has been since that memorable call at Col. Philpot's

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction and easily kept in order; should make a firm quick stitch, alike on both sides of the material and should sew hair and all materials that can be sewed

It should be able to use cotton, thread or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine and from thick to thin, with rapidity and without changing the tension It should also be able to make the tension greater or less on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather and always ready to work

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work and of using different colored thread or silk above and below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch and be instantly set to either, and continue sewing lightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise

It should have a wheel feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress

It should not form a ridge on the under side, or ravel

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self-Abuse Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Stricture Gleet, Gravel Diseases diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or intimate the case recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a taint which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, sore throat and lungs ending upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a long life of suffering seldom to an untimely grave It destroys the nervous system rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victim of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by the hands of the most remarkable cures—Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State Oregon and Washington Territory by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All business communications strictly confidential Address DR L J CZAPKAY, Medical Institute Sacramento street, between Montgomery and Kearny Office Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the ravages of disease, who having recovered their former health and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and remedial agent that their statement may be authenticated to a Notary Public His demands of society imperiously command that it be published and we comply with their petition to the attention of all afflicted

Certificate No 1—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted with a permanent relief of their sufferings may be certain I feel his duty to himself to publicly express his most grateful thanks to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the complete recovery of his health He was driven by the distressing symptoms incident to the early imprudence of youth, a miserable victim to self-abuse depressed in body and mind unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as trifling in importance—but alas after a few weeks and years of unsuccessful quackery of their treatment I found, to my unutterable horror that instead of relief my symptoms became alarming in their course and baffled by one of my diseases became prin[illegible] confirmed [illegible] my medicine would in a little consequence I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength, and energy, and as a last resort and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr Czapkay, who after examining my case prescribed some [illegible] which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head I was encouraged by the result I resolved to place myself immediately under his care and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear and my ideas collected the constant pain in my back and groins the weakness of my limbs like the vile creation of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement the miasmatic [illegible] and all foreboding [illegible] instrument want of confidence others the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful, exciting and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having placed myself under the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that was but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of the impotent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. L. J. Czapkay and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected

State of California, County of San Francisco,

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this seventeenth day of April, A D 1856 Signed

MARYSVILLE, June 28, 1856

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir: I received the last of your medicine and do not think I will require more as I feel very well, except that I have not got my strength yet but soon will with the aid of your medicine It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I commenced your institute with my constitution, as I supposed, entirely ruined and never thought you would be able to restore me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and, as a last resort, commenced your medicine, and to my utter astonishment, so that I would not get excited and tried everything Now that you know what I expected, and the knowledge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery of my symptoms and the removal of those sores and humors from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the cause of those emissions, which you said were the principal cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you my feelings, greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you forty dollars over your fee, as I think myself cheaply cured If you think [illegible] benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers, as I love one gratefully yours, THOMAS B

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of doing I wish to lay before the public a case which has come under my recommendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but as an act of humanity also About two years ago, I suffered [illegible] which, owing to my inability to meet the necessary expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the disagreement which I met with in attempting it, some time after [illegible] much (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently while in pursuit of my occupation thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet realized the miseries of my life and soon learned to look upon death as the only [illegible] would render assistance or shelter me from the storms of adversities who sought to prolong the existence of my unfortunate self While in this state and having previously tested the [illegible] of life, I once more was induced to seek the [illegible] seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation, I called upon Dr L J Czapkay I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services; to which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health Unable to reward him for the boon which I then received, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I [illegible] due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed
